Welcome from the President

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Welcome to Euroanaesthesia 2015! It is very exciting to welcome you to Berlin and to be celebrating the 10th anniversary of the European Society of Anaesthesiology (ESA) with you all.

The ESA as we know it today was formed by the amalgamation of the three European Society of Anaesthesiologists (former ESA), the European Academy of Anaesthesiology (EAA) and the Confederation of National Societies of Anaesthesiologists (CENSA). Many doubted it could be achieved but in 2005, due to the dedication, hard work and vision of anaesthesiologists from all the three societies a successful amalgamation was completed. We are grateful to all those who contributed to this cornerstone development of the European anaesthesiology. ESA has grown exponentially in scope, strength, standing and influence. Nowadays, as regional section of the World Federation of Societies of Anaesthesiologists (WFSA), the ESA truly represents anaesthesiologists throughout Europe and has the authority to speak on behalf of our speciality at a global level.

ESA is acknowledged worldwide as an authority in our field, in setting and aiming for the highest standards and safety in clinical practice, research, science and education. The future of the Society is well set with strong leadership, strong values, growing interests and activities and an expanding membership.

Euroanaesthesia 2015 - the biggest tribute to the success of the ESA and our contribution to anaesthesiology! This year's Opening Ceremony will be a trip down memory lane with voices and photographs from the first ten years of the ESA. I will have the pleasure of bestowing Honorary Membership upon two 'old ESA friends', Professor Olav Sellevold and Professor Jochen Schutte Am Esch, in recognition of their role in the development of the Society. Our eyes will turn to Germany when, Professor Thea Koch, President of the DGAI, speaks about 'Germany's Contribution to the Development of Anaesthesiology' and we are delighted to be joined by Mrs. Emine Demirbükten-Wegner, State Secretary of Health. New this year, is the introduction of a keynote speaker. Emery Brown, professor of Anaesthesia at Harvard Medical School will speak about 'The Brain, Neuroscience and the Future of Anaesthesiology'.

I am confident that 2015 will again be a memorable experience for us all, that we will all come away having discussed new challenges, deepened our knowledge, shared our views.

Under the chairmanship of Professor Stefan De Hert and Professor Charles Marc Samama the Scientific Committee has elaborated a programme adapted to suit young colleagues as well as more experienced anaesthesiologists. The unmissable Sir Robert Macintosh Lecture will be addressed by Isabelle Murat: 'Should Anaesthesiology Move into Subspecialities?'; a topical subject at the heart of the future of our specialization. The programme addresses all aspects of anaesthesia, perioperative medicine, intensive care medicine, pain treatment and emergency medicine. There is particular emphasis this year on Risky Anaesthesia, Obesity, Airway and Respiratory Management and of course Patient Safety. The Helsinki Declaration on Patient Safety in Anaesthesiology is also celebrating a milestone. Since the launch five years ago, the declaration is a global success and contribution to patient safety and care. It has been signed by all European countries and either signed, adopted or supported by many non-European countries including the US, Canada, Latin America, Australia and New Zealand. A session dedicated to the Helsinki Declaration will be held on Monday when our colleagues from Japan, China and Nigeria will confirm their National Societies support to adopt the declaration.

Enjoy Euroanaesthesia 2015 and enjoy Berlin.

Yours sincerely

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Daniela Filipescu'.

Daniela Filipescu
ESA President

Welcome to Germany

Dear Colleagues, Delegates and Friends

On behalf of the German Society of Anaesthesiology and Intensive Care Medicine (DGAI), it is my pleasure to extend a warm welcome to you to Euroanaesthesia 2015 in Berlin. It is a great honour to host this 10th anniversary meeting of the European Society of Anaesthesiology in our capital.

First of all, I would like to congratulate our President Daniela Filipescu and the organizing committee for the outstanding scientific and educational programme.

We are celebrating 10 years of the very successful European Society of Anaesthesiology. The great merits of the ESA are the development and harmonisation of training curricula which facilitate mobility between European countries. The establishment of fellowship and exchange programmes support a vivid exchange of clinicians and scientists. One important milestone was the definition of clinical standards for patient safety in the Helsinki declaration which was launched at the Euroanaesthesia in 2010. Furthermore, great efforts have been made to increase the number of observational as well as investigator initiated European multicentre trials. These have been successfully published in high ranking journals and have contributed to better patient care.

Due to the demographic development and the increase of high risk patients most of the European countries will face major challenges in anaesthesia and intensive care medicine. Therefore, perioperative care needs to be optimised in order to prevent postoperative complications and decrease perioperative morbidity. Anaesthesiologists will become more and more engaged in perioperative medicine, including patient blood management, organ-protective anaesthetic concepts and postoperative pain therapy as well as in intensive and palliative care. This congress offers various opportunities to meet the experts and to improve your knowledge and competences with respect to patient outcome.

On behalf of the national organising committee I am looking forward to celebrating 10 years of the European society and I wish you a pleasant and unforgettable stay in Berlin.

Cordially yours

Thea Koch

Should Anaesthesiology Move into Subspecialties?

Isabelle Murat, Paris, France

Professor Isabelle Murat, eminent paediatric anaesthesiologist, has long campaigned to improve safety in paediatric worldwide and in particular in Africa and Asia.

Mortality in anaesthesia is now extremely low and inversely related to the number of anaesthesia providers. However, the number of anaesthetists is expected to decrease in some countries such as in France and, in the same time, the number of anaesthetists no longer working in the OR is increasing. Consequently, matching demand and resources might be compromised. At least three anaesthesiology subspecialties are recognised in most countries: paediatric anaesthesiology, pain medicine and critical care medicine. It is well demonstrated that specialist paediatric anaesthetists have fewer episodes of cardiac arrest, laryngospasm and bradycardia compared to non-specialist anaesthetists. However besides specialisation, the volume of cases, the structure and general manpower are also major components of outcome. And finally, not all anaesthesiologists will provide the same quality of anaesthesia, therefore also influencing outcome.

Where are we and where do we go? Most surgical specialties are moving from subspecialties to nanospecialties. Facing these changes, anaesthesiologists should remain or should become perioperative physicians in order to decrease perioperative morbidity.

The Helsinki Declaration on Patient Safety in Anaesthesiology

A global success and contribution to patient safety and care

2010 The European Board of Anaesthesiology (EBA) and the European Society of Anaesthesiology developed the Helsinki Declaration. The emphasises the roles and responsibilities of anaesthesiologists in promoting safe patient care in collaboration with surgeons and other clinical partners, patients, departments, hospitals, international organisations, funders of health care and politicians.

2015 The Helsinki Declaration has been signed, adopted and supported by national societies of anaesthesiology worldwide. The Helsinki Declaration contributes to saving lives every day.

It is an incentive for the development of departmental, university, national and European training programmes.

Anaesthesiologists from all over the world may sit EDAIC.

Part I Examination – Written 2 MCQ papers:

- Paper A basic sciences
- Paper B addresses clinical anaesthesia, internal medicine and intensive care.

Training and Education

ESA Masterclasses

The ESA Masterclasses are sessions of tuition covering specific topics such as conducting research, scientific writing, statistics or design and analysis of clinical studies.

Classes are organised in small groups and led by well-known international experts. Classes are tailored to the requirements, knowledge and experience of each participant.

Research Mentorship Programme

The Mentorship Programme promotes the professional development of young researchers and established investigators. The one-to-one mentoring model enables the development of a personal relationship and provides individual support for the mentee.

Teach the Teacher Course

The standard of teaching of anaesthesiology is a vital element of ensuring that our patients receive high quality safe care. Many anaesthesiologists are involved in teaching not only those who work in University Departments, and not just Medical staff. The teaching of Operating Department Practitioners and nursing staff is often part of our work. This course is split into 2 one week module. Research.

Committee for European Education in Anaesthesiology

CEEAA represents around 100 regional centres for Continuing Medical Education (CME) in anaesthesiology. The cycle of six courses all in the field of anaesthesia, intensive care medicine, emergency medicine and acute pain management. The courses are given in the same order in each centre, in the language of the country and for a maximum of 50 participants.

*Participant declared a 'conflict of interest'

 Registration Required

HELSINKI DECLARATION The content of this session addresses a topic related to the Helsinki Declaration on Patient Safety in Anaesthesiology, launched in 2010.

ESA policy regarding conflicts of interest

Any person who Chairpersons or speaks at a Euroanaesthesia Congress in sessions not supported by industry grants has declared, in advance of the publication of the Final Programme, the existence of any relationship or arrangement, direct or indirect, that could be reasonably considered to affect the content of the presentation. This includes, but is not limited to, factors such as financial relationships, advisory positions, receipt of payments, expenses, grants, or departmental support, and membership of other organisations. Euroanaesthesia speakers and Chairpersons are entitled to accommodation and/or reimbursement of travel expenses based on the ESA Reimbursement Policy.

Participants who have declared a 'conflict of interest' will be indicated in the Final Programme with an asterisk (*) next to their name. Declared conflicts of interest are automatically disclosed to the audience at the beginning of each session.

Abstract Presentation Overview

Poster Session Area: Room A1

Each abstract presentation session is displayed on an interactive poster terminal during the session in the poster area. Each terminal is numbered. Presenters have received an email with the schedule and all the details of their presentation.

Posters can also be viewed on 5 terminals in the exhibition hall. Authors who have given prior permission may be contacted by delegates and requested to share their poster via email.

Poster presentation format
A chairperson and a junior co-chairperson will conduct a short discussion with the presenter and the audience in front of the interactive terminal in the poster presentation area.

Poster presenters will remain next to their poster to answer questions for 15 minutes before and up to 15 minutes after their session.

The accepted abstract number format consists of: session reference, number denoting the order of the abstract within this session.

For example, session 06AP01

06 = Learning Track 6

AP = Abstract Presentation

01 = First session of this Learning Track

The first abstract to be presented in session 06AP01 is numbered 6AP1-1, the second one 6AP1-2 etc. A maximum of 12 abstracts are presented in each session.

Only the Best Abstract Prize Competition presenters make a formal oral presentation of their abstract using audio-visual aids.

The Best Abstract Prize Competition (BAPC), session reference ESAPC1:

Late-Breaking Abstracts Session

Sunday, 31 May, 10:30-12:00, Room A1

Chairpersons:

Idit Matot (Israel) – Jan Van Zundert (Belgium)

The Late-Breaking Abstracts Session is organised to allow the submission of abstracts for clinical and experimental studies of above average quality, which could not be submitted by the regular abstract deadline. These abstracts must describe important current research advances which have not been submitted previously. Late-Breaking Abstracts will be available on the congress mobile application and published in the online programme.

All abstract session details in this Final Programme are correct at the time of printing. Session data displayed on the terminals onsite, in particular Chairperson names, may have been updated.

EJA Abstract Supplement

All accepted abstracts will be published in electronic format on the EJA website and in the EJA Supplement Volume 32, June 2015, Supplement 53. Please note that Late-Breaking Abstracts will not be published.
